Good morning!

I hope you had the opportunity to get out and enjoy the absolutely amazing spring weather we had over the weekend. I saw several of you posting photos of your Easter festivities on social media, and it looks like the Easter Bunny did not disappoint! As we head into week 12 of the semester, here are a few items of note:

More PTK Recognitions: Last week was full of celebration and recognition, and this week that theme continues. Several of us will travel to Stephens College in Columbia on Thursday for the Phi Theta Kappa All-Missouri Awards luncheon. We are proud of OTC's 10 student recipients, and we look forward to celebrating them with state-level recognition.

Closet Clean-Out: A reminder that there is still time to donate clean, gently used workplace attire for the spring Dress for Success Event. Career Services is accepting donations through tomorrow, April 11. Priority needs are plus size clothing and men's clothing and accessories. You can drop off items in Career Services' offices in ICE 119 and 121. Contact Tammy Casey (caseyt@otc.edu) with any questions.

Zoom-to-Teams: As we continue the transition from Zoom to Microsoft Teams for virtual meetings, the Center for Academic Innovation has built a webpage for faculty with frequently asked questions, tutorials, and training opportunities. Bookmark the Zoom to Microsoft Teams Transition webpage for resources and updates.

Have a great week!
