Good morning!

First things first: Congrats to the KC Chiefs and all of you Chiefs fans out there. What a game! Super Bowl LVIII did not disappoint. Now that our heart rates are back to normal, we can begin our work week.

And we're beginning our week with a little snowy weather. Although we are business as usual this morning, we'll be keeping a close eye on the weather today. This particular system may impact travel more severely in some parts of our service region, so please be sensitive to students who report they are unable to come to class.

A couple of items of note:

Commencement Student Speaker: It may seem early to be talking about Commencement, but it will be here before we know it. Applications are now being accepted for this year's student speaker. Please spread the word with your students and encourage any who may be interested to apply.

Speckman Tutoring and Learning Center Open House: Encourage your students to check out the TLC's Open House on Tuesday and Wednesday (February 13 and 14) from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Free popcorn!

As the Vince Lombardi Trophy makes its way back to KC, it seems appropriate to quote the man himself: "They call it coaching but it is teaching. You do not just tell them...you show them the reasons."

Enjoy your week!
