

STUDENT THREATS OF SELF-HARM AND SUICIDE

If the threat seems immediate, the instructor should call and report to 911 first, then Safety and Security (447-6911) and Career Center Counselor Stacy Johannsen at 447-8123, or the Career Center office at 447-8126. When a student makes threats of self-harm and suicide that do not appear to be immediate, the instructor should report the threat to the Career Center office at 447-8126. Instructors should not leave the student who made threats of self-harm and suicide unsupervised and should remain with the student until help arrives. Instructors should complete an OTC Cares Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT) report after notifying administration. The Career Center partners with the OTC Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT) by reaching out to students who appear to be hurting or struggling, and helps to maintain a safe campus by intervening when potential red flag behaviors are identified. Link to <http://students.otc.edu/bit/otc-cares> for information about OTC Cares, the BIT report and types of red flag student behaviors to report.