2017-2018 Theme

Break a Rule

WHY?

"Teachers need something in short supply today--the license to be unsure where a lesson may go."

--David C. Berliner

- Faculty feel stifled
- Faculty evaluation is based on checking boxes and points; afraid to branch out beyond those criteria
- Empowering through trust.
- It's okay to try and fail. Miserably.

GROUND RULES

- Can't violate college policy
- Can't disadvantage either students or the college
- FT faculty only (for now, anyway)
- Faculty do not have to participate...but should be encouraged to do so
- Must still satisfy course objectives (how they get there is up to them)
